HICKMAN TRIAL PROMISES TO BE SWIFT ONE

Judge Trabucco Makes Up For Time Lost By Judge's
Disqualification

QUESTIONS THE JURORS

Neighbor of Parker Family Not Permitted To Sit In Judgment

By Arthur L. Marek
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 27.—William Edward Hickman faced a Western justice, swift and sure, as his trial for the kidnaping and murder of Marion Parker entered its third day.

Within six hours after Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco, former cattleman who hails from the open ranges of North Central California, had ordered the trial to proceed, four women and eight men tentatively were seated in the jury box.

While the hearing was delayed practically a whole day at the start by the disqualification of Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy, the up-state jurist who replaced Judge Hardy has made up for lost time with his direct methods and his swift rulings which leave no room for argument.

"Objection overruled."
"We'll have no argument, gentlemen."

"Proceed with the next question."
Every maneuver on the part of the opposing attorneys tending to slow up the trial is met with a decisive and unalterable ruling from the bench to push the proceedings ahead.

When Judge Trabucco encounters a legal snarl he cuts the Gordian knot. He advanced the trial fully two hours when he personally took the prospective jurors in hand and asked them collectively a number of preliminary questions usually propounded to each juror individually by the defense and prosecution attorneys.

The State, so far, has used but one peremptory challenge, while the defense still has all of its allotted twenty.

Chief Defense Counsel Jerome Walsh indicated he would use the full score to challenge any prospective juror—

1—Who has contributed to any fund for the arrest and conviction of Hickman.

2—Who has devoted any effort toward Hickman's apprehension.

3—Who is a member of any organization which has gone on record concerning the kidnaping and murder.

4—Who is a member of any church whose pastor has preached on the Parker kidnaping-murder case.

5—Who has listened on the radio to details of the crime.

6—Who is prejudiced against an insanity defense.

7—Who has a child attending the Mount Vernon Junior High School from which little Marion Parker was kidnaped.

Among those who were not permitted to sit in judgment on Hickman were C. K. Burst, a neighbor of the Parker family, and Walter A. Overell, who lives in Manhattan Place, a short distance from the spot where the kidnaping flung the mutilated form of his victim at the feet of her father.

Burst said he could not give Hickman a fair trial because his children had played with Marion. Overell declared the "things he knew" had caused him to form a fixed opinion which he could not change.

Buys Seed To Plant In State's Nurseries

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—The past year was an excellent red pine seed year in the Lake States and the Department of Forests and Waters has purchased 675 pounds, which will be sufficient for meeting the State Forest Tree Nursery requirements during the next two years. The price of collectors was $9.99 per pound, which established a low mark for red pine seed. Each pound of red pine seed will produce approximately 22,000 one-year old seedlings, sufficient to plant two acres of ground.

ST. ANN'S DEFEATED BY IMMACULATA FORCES

Go Down Into Cellar Position
By Losing Game
46 to 13

A. O. H. ALSO LOSES

By T. M. Juno

Immaculata defeated St. Ann's here last night by the score of 46 to 13. Y. M. A. again broke into the win column by beating A. O. H. 29 to 18.

The St. Ann's-Immaculata battle was all one-sided, the boys seemed to be able to put the ball through the nets at will. "Angie" McCafferty was shooting from all angles of the floor last night and very few were missed. Lake was high scorer with 18 points. Russo again starred for the "Saints."

It was the fifth straight defeat for the Dorrance street boys who now occupy the cellar.

The Y. M. A.-A. O. H. battle was a little rough but was closely played and very interesting.

The return of Townsend and Hardy seemed to put more life into the Youth's Association who tasted their first defeat at the hands of the Celtics last Tuesday.

Townsend pulled off the best shot of the night when running along the sideline and heavily guarded, threw an overhand one-hand shot which sank through the net for a beautiful field goal. "Dates" Pegley and Dugan starred for their team. The "Hibos" again showed fine teamwork.

Many Requests Received To Witness Electrocutations

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—One of the surprising features of the mail at the Governor's office this month has been the number of requests for permission to witness electrocutations. Such matters, as well as applications for employment as executioner, do not come in the scope of the Governor's office business, and are being referred to the warden of the Western Penitentiary.

Another feature of the Governor's correspondence is the number of similar letters being received about the condition of one stretch of road or the state of repair of a school house which give evidence of the same inspiration and of the old time form letter. Such letters are referred to the department having charge of the subject complained of.

BRISTOL BOWLING LEAGUE ENDS FIRST WEEK OF ITS SECOND HALF

Many Surprises Were in Store for Followers of the Wooden Ways — Biggest Upset Caused by Legion Defeating
No. 1 Fire Fighters — Won Two Games

The Bristol Bowling League completed its first week of the second half and surprises were in store for many of the followers of the wooden ways. The biggest upset was caused by the Legion five when they took the No. 1 fire fighters into camp for two games and only a margin of a few plus deprived them of the entire match.

The Keystone showed the fighting spirit by rolling 953 and grabbed the middle game of their match with the strong Amisson team. Joe Amisson in this match, showed some pretty bowling by starting his average off for the second half at 213. Joe rolled over 200 in each of his three games totaling 638, a new high three game total league record.

The Exchange Club although beaten three games showed great improvement. Following are individual and team averages ending the first half:

FIREMEN KEPT BUSY ANSWERING SIX ALARMS

Yesterday Was A Busy One
For Smoke Eaters
Here

ONE HOUSE DAMAGED

Yesterday was a busy day for local firemen and a total of six alarms in all were answered during the day.

A frame dwelling at Harriman Park owned by Benjamin Silber, of Bristol, and occupied by a Mr. Stout was damaged by fire. The flames originated around the chimney and did quite some damage.

Fire companies of the old volunteer system were called and answered the summons. The volunteer companies also answered a call to the Megargee Paper Mill when it was discovered that a field was ablaze near a sign board.

The Bristol Consolidated Fire Department answered four alarms in all during the day.

At 6:55 p. m. there was a grass fire at Beaver street and what is commonly known as Feather Bed Road. Two alarms were sounded and the blaze was extinguished.

At seven o'clock last night a false alarm was sent in from box 35, Wilson avenue and Cleveland street.

An alarm was received at 12:35 when a field was found ablaze in the rear of Victory Garage, Farragut avenue.

A telephone alarm was received at 5:10 to the effect that a coal pile in the yard of Grundy's mill was ablaze. The firemen responded but their services were not needed.

MOVE OFFICES

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—Announcement was made today that the district office of the engineering bureau of the Pennsylvania State Health Department at Williamsport has been removed from the First National Bank building to the Heyman building. This move was occasioned by the consolidation of all State offices in that city. M. J. Barwick is the district engineer in charge.

FIRE CHIEF'S CAR IN CRASH; ONE MAN HURT

Accident Occurred at Jefferson
Avenue and Pond Street
Yesterday

WAS ANSWERING ALARM

One man was injured and two automobiles damaged yesterday when the automobile of Fire Chief McGee collided with a machine driven by Charles Woodington, 222 Lafayette street. The accident occurred at Jefferson avenue and Pond street.

Fire Chief McGee was in his car and was being driven by Joseph Peirce, Jr. They were answering an alarm which had been telephoned to fire headquarters that there was a fire at the Grundy Mill. Peirce left the fire station and went to get McGee and then continued enroute to the supposed fire.

According to those near the scene at the time of the accident, both the bell and siren on Chief McGee's car were being sounded.

Woodington was driving down Pond street and evidently did not hear the bell or siren of McGee's machine, because he continued to cross the highway. Both cars crashed and Woodington was injured. He suffered cuts about the left eye and side of the head and also abrasions about the right arm. He was taken to the Harriman Hospital.

The firemen's services were not needed when they reached the scene of the supposed blaze. It was a coal pile which has been burning off and on for several months and is looked after by the employees of the mill.

POLICE SUBSTATIONS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—The Pennsylvania State Police report additional substations placed throughout the State making a total of forty such stations now operating. Continued activity in rural districts has reduced number of complaints from farmers covering stealing of chickens and other farm products. Reports of petty thefts committed adjacent to congested centers however show no abatement.

LATEST NEWS

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 27.—Four Prohibition agents from Philadelphia in search of a whiskey still on the Old York Road had this section of Bucks County in a turmoil last night. The quartette visited the place of Oscar Giggins, Upper Makefield, between 10 and 11 o'clock. There were only three women at home and the agents demanded admittance by pounding on the doors and windows. Word was phoned to Mr. Wiggins who was at a meeting in Doylestown, and he informed State Patrol who traced the men to the farm known as "Egypt" farm, where the four were taken at the point of guns. They were then recognized and identified.

INTRODUCE BILL TO BUILD BRIDGE HERE

New Senate Bill Allows Pittsburgh Engineer to Construct Span

OLD ACT IS REVIVED

Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, yesterday introduced a bill at Washington granting permission to build a bridge spanning the Delaware river between Bristol and Burlington, N. J.

At the same time the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce reported favorably a bill introduced by Congressman Henry W. Watson, of Langhorne, extending the life of the act of May, 1926, which granted permission to build the bridge to Clifford L. Anderson, Burgess of Bristol, and Joseph R. Cheeseman, Burlington publisher.

Congressman Watson's bill would extend the time for commencement and completion of the span by Anderson and Cheeseman one and three years, respectively, and was rendered necessary owing to the failure to file plans with the War Department and commence construction work on the span. Under the general bridge law, congressional authority lapses if no work is done within a period of one year after permission is granted.

Senator Reed would not comment upon Morse's plans other than to indicate that they were fully financed. The Pittsburgh engineer requested the Senator to introduce the bill and the Senator consented.

Passage of the act granting Anderson and Cheeseman authority to construct the span was marked by a bitter struggle in the House two years ago. Congressman Isaac Bacharach of Atlantic City had introduced a bill granting the authority to Cheeseman and John Lysle Harrington, a bridge engineer, to build the bridge. It was favorably reported to the House with an amendment striking out Harrington's name.

The situation was complicated when Congressman George A. Welsh of Philadelphia introduced a bill similar to the Bacharach bill, but granting the consent to Howard Kirk, Philadelphia lawyer, and Lloyd Cross of Delanco, N. J. Passage of both bills was repeatedly blocked. Congressman Watson then introduced a bill providing that Anderson should be co-builder with Cheeseman, and Congressman Welsh withdrew his objection.

All of the bills provided for a toll bridge.

Bristol High Travels To Bordertown Tonight

Bristol High travels to Bordertown and there meets the strong Bordertown quintet tonight. Bristol will try to redeem itself by beating the Jersey team. Last Tuesday Bristol met its first defeat at Ambler. The game would have been easily won if Wright and Spadaccino had not made a few fouls.

Coach Townsend is a bit discouraged at the showing made by a few of the regular varsity player and unless a better showing comes up there will be a great change in the Cardinal and Gray line-up. A few of the freshmen, VanHorn, Gallagher and Raccagno, have been coming along nicely.

The girls' will also go to Bordertown but with the purpose of winning the ninth straight victory.

Check of Barn Fires Reveals A Decrease

HARRISBURG, Jan. 27.—The bureau of fire protection, a division of the Pennsylvania State Police, report a decrease in number of barn fires in central and western Pennsylvania. In eastern Pennsylvania districts a large number of barn fires have been investigated, resulting in the conviction in several cases where fires were of incendiary origin. Farmers have been requested to communicate with the bureau of information regarding removal of hazards in storing crops.

THE DRIVE IS ON

Interest of many ex-service men in Bristol is now being centered on the drive conducted by Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, which has as its purpose the enlisting of all eligible men in the ranks of the Legion.

The American Legion is one of the organizations growing out of the great conflict which has stayed—stayed to help those who fought or prepared to go overseas, preserve memories of the World War. Ever since those days of struggle and turmoil ended back in '18, the formation of the Legion has been going on, step by step, until it has reached the organization it now is.

At present many towns throughout the United States are depending on the ex-service men, connected with the great organization, to foster and back many community projects. Their assistance in community work is felt, and their presence and helpfulness is noted gratefully by families of those who made the supreme sacrifice.

Every man, no matter how far activities in the great fight went, should become affiliated if possible with this group of individuals. The mingling with those who experienced the same hardships and difficulties means much—the possibility of assisting those made dependent by the war should be looked upon as a privilege—and the assistance of public enterprises through this organization will be felt by many.

Bristol Post has been a leader in many ways during the past several years, and there is no reason why it should not continue to be.

INSPIRATION IN THE STARS

One of the disadvantages of cities is that they bar man from the stars. City smoke and city lights are twin enemies of astronomy. No country boy, stepping out of doors on a clear and frosty night, can miss the knowledge of other worlds than ours. City lads are less fortunate, for nothing forces them to look higher than the lanterns of the sky-scrappers.

Perhaps there are compensations. Inspiration is a fickle jade, bestowing favors by no rule or rote. But it is no small thing that city folk lose the stars.

Can it be entirely accident that the birthplaces of great ideas have been so largely spots whose skies are clear? Would those somber, glorious figures of the Hebrew prophets have held the world's thoughts for nearly thirty centuries so largely in their fingers if the high hills of Palestine had been forever overcast with clouds?

It is hard to replace nature with art, but it may be partly possible. Some communities are interesting young and old alike in the useful, interesting and romantic science of astronomy by fostering amateur astronomical societies. And the larger cities, which alone have the financial resources, are providing telescopes and planetariums, picturing the entire whirling universe as the astronomers know it.

The best gifts of science to personal culture come when the science is a well loved hobby, not a gainful task. Humanity, individually and collectively, would benefit from a universal taking up of such hobbies as astronomy, natural history, the arts and every other department of human knowledge and nature.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN
HAILED AS TRUE TYPE

By Davis J. Walsh
L. N. S. Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Pennsylvania are being panned nowadays about the admirable qualities, in and out of the ring, possessed by Tommy Loughran, the light heavyweight champion. The boys hailed him as the true type of fighting champion because of his performance in taking on McTigue, Slatery and Lonski in title bouts within a matter of two months and they are listening with real respect to his challenges leveled at the various heavyweights, beginning with Gene Tunney and, for we all know, perhaps ending with the precise, correct young man. However, the one man Loughran wants to fight hasn't been mentioned. He happens to be the only one of the big timers through whom Loughran can hope to further his ambition but you can't argue an Irishman out of a fixed idea. He wants to meet and beat Jack Delaney.

A year ago, this notion would be wholly understandable, for at that time Delaney was the big shot and the man beating him simply went right to the head of the class. But now Delaney, regardless of his knockout of Berlenbach, generally is considered passe.

There isn't a man in the top flight who wants to bother with him, since to beat him is to gain nothing and to lose to him is to lose all. But an Irishman with a grudge never reckons results. Loughran would go in there with Delaney for money, marbles, milk chocolates or the exercise. He has never forgiven Delaney for giving him the runaround when Jack was light heavyweight champion.

His enmity, however, dates back further than that. It goes back to a Philadelphia ring some two or three years ago when Delaney was right on top of his career after one of the Berlenbach fights. He took on Loughran as a work out and, according to all accounts, he got a good one.

The decision of a referee and two judges said that Delaney had won on points. Everybody in the house thought Loughran had won in a slow jog and, being a Philadelphia product, they naturally went right to the roots of their hair and tore out enraged handfuls. Order only was restored when the chairman of the Pennsylvania boxing commission jumped into the ring and called the fight a draw.

It's thought he was doing Loughran plenty of good but Thomas never saw it that way. According to his account, he won the fight away off by himself and the declaration for a draw was just twenty cents on the dollar to him. However, he didn't blame the commission chairman. He hoarded up his enmity for Jack Delaney, although the latter hadn't rendered the original decision but merely had taken it.

Loughran fired challenges at him but these weren't accepted. If they had been, Tommy could have cashed on his enmity. He can't now. But then, as intimated above, an Irishman with the grudge is not a business man. He's just nobody's business at all.
